

I'm writing in regard to the FCC consideration of LPFM stations. Many stations such as KLOVE are heard via FM translator. KLOVE provides an invaluable service to its listeners in the way of positive and encouraging spiritual programming. I personally listen and financially support KLOVE and feel it provides safe listening for families as well as outreach to the community. Many people call in to KLOVE for counseling from the staff of pastors. They respond to all manner of counseling call including suicide prevention. I have requested prayer from them and received a personal online response as well as by mail. Many of my friends and colleagues listen to this station. There are too few stations providing all of the above services. KLOVE is much more than music, it's ministry to a hurting world. It cannot be lost or replaced by LPFM. Thank You.
